Letter from the Pastor / Carta del Pastor

May God bless and protect the people of Corpus Christi Church!

Today is the penultimate Sunday for the liturgical year 2021. The gospel message is apocalyptic. Jesus uses the lesson of the fig tree to foment in his disciples concern and awareness. "When its branch becomes tender and sprouts leaves, you know that summer is near. In the same way, when you see these things happening, know that he is near, at the gates. Amen, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away".

Our life here on earth is never meant to be permanent. Our attitude must be that of viatoris or a pilgrim. What is important is not where we start, but the end toward which we are destined. Our attitude should not be of indifference but rather of faith that surely it will come and hope that our God is good all the time even at the end of the world.

The gospel acclamation reminds us to be ready for the end times: "Be vigilant at all times and pray that you have the strength to stand before the Son of Man".

Devotedly in Christ,

MONSIGNOR JONAS ACHACOSO, JCD

¡Que Dios bendiga y proteja a la gente de la Iglesia de Corpus Christi!

Hoy es el penúltimo domingo del año litúrgico 2021. El mensaje del evangelio es apocalíptico. Jesús usa la lección de la higuera para fomentar en sus discípulos la atención y la reacción. "Cuando las ramas se ponen tiernas y brotan las hojas, ustedes saben que el verano está cerca. Así también, cuando vean ustedes que suceden estas cosas, sepan que el fin ya está cerca, ya está a la puerta. En verdad que no pasará esta generación sin que todo esto se cumpla. Podrán dejar de existir el cielo y la tierra, pero mis palabras no dejarán de cumplirse".

Nuestra vida aquí en la tierra nunca debe ser permanente. Nuestra actitud debe ser la de viatoris o peregrino. Lo importante no es dónde comenzamos, sino el fin al que estamos destinados. Nuestra actitud no debe ser de indiferencia sino de fe en que seguramente vendrá y de esperanza que nuestro Dios es bueno todo el tiempo incluso hasta el fin del mundo.

La acclamación del evangelio nos recuerda que debemos estar preparados para el fin de los tiempos: "Velen y oren, para que puedan presentarse sin temor ante el Hijo del hombre".

Devotamente en Cristo,

MONSEÑOR JONAS ACHACOSO, JCD

Synod Invitations: Come Listen, Come Speak By Msgr. Jonas Achacoso, JCD

My dear faithful of Corpus Christi,

As we prepare to be part of the synodal process, I am sharing with you my article published in The Tablet. -Your Pastor

Pope Francis has convoked the Church to prepare for the Synod of Bishops to be held in Rome in 2023. The theme is "For a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation, and Mission." There will be a two-year preparatory program, called a "synodal process" — which basically means a universal reflection on how we have journeyed together, learning from real-life experiences, and how we should journey farther forward.

What I have seen so far on this "Synod on Synodality" is a symphony of surprises. The first surprise for me is the topic itself. "Synodality" is a new term not even registered yet in dictionaries. This new concept may have been defined already, but it still has many loose ends needing further determinations.

I like the first declaration of Pope Francis in his speech to open the synodal process — closing floodgates of misinterpretation. He reiterated that the "Synod is not a parliament or an opinion poll; the Synod is an ecclesial event, and its protagonist is the Holy Spirit. If the Spirit is not present, there will be no Synod."

Another surprise is the plan for a worldwide listening to many of the faithful, especially the poorest and the voiceless in the peripheries.

Marveling at the synodal prospects, I could imagine that we will continue to be surprised. I would compare this to the most famous musical composition of Maurice Ravel, the "Bolero," played in reverse. Connoisseurs of classical music know that the "Bolero" is a movement from one musical instrument to another, then building up to a full orchestral blast. The synod would be the reverse because it starts with a full blast of symphony, then winds down to one voice, and that would be by the Holy Father.

A story is told that, at the premiere performance of the "Bolero," Ravel heard of an unpleasant review — namely, that he must be mad. The French composer wisely remarked that the critic must have understood the piece. I think we can say the same thing about the synodal process — that it may appear "mad," because a process of such magnitude has never been done before. The madness of a global listening to those who have been unheard: What a phenomenon of surprises that would be!

The synodal process is not the usual from-top-to-bottom movement; it is rather from the bottom to the top. There will be a contemplation of the beautiful face of Jesus Christ reflected on ordinary men and women with very diverse and real concerns, from different origins and cultures. The face of Christ will be contemplated not in the perspective of the great theologians and mystics, but from its distinct splendor in the joys and tears of many ordinary folks.

Among many surprises, I would like to mention this last one. The relator of the synod revealed that the instrumentum laboris, or working paper, for the synod is empty, as in blank and clean. Clearly, the method followed is a participatory discernment, building up from personal faith experiences and from the dynamics of community, living the faith together.

In the end, the big surprise should be that the ordinary faithful will feel they are part of the Church who listens to them — and that the Church is surprisingly relevant to our times.
